

SPEAKERS BIO

Highly disciplined, determined and productive, Mr. Tolbert A. Kerkulah is a project management professional with over 12yrs. of outstanding work experience and voluntary contribution to organizational and community development. Exceedingly purposeful and team oriented toward community and institutional strengthening for sustainable change geared toward national growth and development. Certified Organizational Development Practitioner- University of Queensland, Australia. Project Coordinator of the World Bank administered Cheesemanburg Landfill & Urban Sanitation (CLUS) project with the project development objective of increasing access to solid waste collection and disposal in Greater Monrovia. Earlier managed the Global Communities (Formerly CHF International) Youth Engagement In Service (YES) Delivery Project funded by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation.

GCCA+ @COP25: How to conquer waste and reduce emissions: lessons from African Countries

Date: 6 December 2019

Time: 12:00-13:00

Address: IFEMA - NDCP pavilion
Avenida del Partenón
28042 Madrid – Spain

Link: How to conquer waste and reduce emissions: lessons from African Countries
